CAMPBELL WATER CO., is constructing a new office building at 555 W. Campbell Ave. on the banks of the present channel of San Tomas Creek. (The expressway construction will change the channel.)

The new office building is just one phase of the expansion program that has been undertaken by the water company to keep pace with the explosive growth of the area. When the office is completed the firm will leave the quarters at 346 E. Campbell Ave. which it has occupied since 1938.

Campbell Water Co. has had a long and distinguished career in Campbell under the guidance of the Hyde family which acquired the company in 1914. But Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of 360 Richlee, recalls that residents were buying water before the turn of the century from Benjamin Campbell, the man who laid out the original townsite.

And Mrs. Kennedy ought to know. She reports that she and her husband acquired the company from the original owners and operated it until 1914.

Mrs. Kennedy lays claim also to being the first (and probably the only) woman water meter reader in the town's history. She did the billing and collecting for their company.

She used to make her rounds in high boots and remembers that she knew everyone in town in those early days, an impossible task for the meter readers of today.

She also adds that she knew the dogs of the town even better than the residents. We imagine that this part of the operation hasn't changed in the past 50 years.

Meter readers seem to be in the same class as mailmen as far as modern dogs are concerned.

SUMMER SEEMS to have arrived finally after several false starts. In line with the season, merchants of the Campbell Plaza are staging a temperature-time contest. All one has to do is to guess the time that the temperature will hit 100 degrees.

The clock at the First National Bank in the shopping center will stop mechanically when the mercury hits the high mark and the person who has guessed the closest to the time gets a prize. Guesses, of course, must be submitted 36 hours before the time.

It's the same idea as the famous guessing contest in Alaska on when the ice breaks, except at the other end of the thermometer.

To publicize this novel contest we ran a couple of pictures last week of the First National clock and gauge.

The pictures were difficult to take and

PARKING DISTRICT PLAN--Elmer D'Angelo, of the engineering firm of Creegan and D'Angelo (left) points out to John Faber, chairman of the Downtown Redevelopment Committee, the plan for an off-street parking district of 855 spaces that is estimated to cost more than $1 million.

Downtown group studies $1 million parking area

Members of the Downtown Redevelopment Committee, concerned with the improvement of the Campbell Ave. business district, held a breakfast meeting this morning at Spivey's. They were scheduled to chew on a $1-million-plus entree that was not listed on the menu of the restaurant.

Committee members learned last week that it will cost $1,330,000 to provide 855 off-street parking spaces in the downtown area, the first step in any improvement program for the downtown area.

Elmer D'Angelo, of the engineering firm of Creegan and D'Angelo, reported to the committee, which is headed by John Faber of the Campbell Memorial Chapel, that the firm had made an estimate of the land costs and improvements for a proposed parking district.

The engineer outlined the district which would include properties on both the north and south sides of Campbell Ave. extending from Winchester Blvd. to the railroad tracks. He estimated the land costs at $830,000.

D'Angelo added that the proposed 855 spaces would provide adequate parking areas only for the existing businesses. The future potential development would need double that amount.

He also explained that the costs did not include the buying of existing parking spaces. However, if it was desired, the existing spaces could be purchased and then included in the overall cost picture.

The engineer estimated that the actual cost per space would be between $1800 and $1900. If the parking district is formed, D'-

Budget slashing looms

City councilmen at their meeting next Monday, July 12, are expected to consider the first of several cuts in the tentative city budget as recommended by City Manager Bob Stephens.

The preliminary operating budget of $1,764,370 was adopted on June 28 with the understanding that several cutbacks would be necessary before the final adoption on August 23 in order to provide a more adequate cash reserve at the end of the fiscal year in 1966.

Stephens plans to suggest a $20,000 reduction on Monday which includes a $12,000 cut in the $30,000 allocation for up-dating traffic signalization. The staff plans to submit other budget modifications before the final deadline.

The council on Monday is also expected to consider the new salary schedule for city employees. The city manager's recommendation calls for an overall 3.6% increase for each employee, based on a recent evaluation survey.

Stephens announced this week that two key city positions, that of street superintendent and accounting budget officer, have now been filled.

Kenneth W. Hickman, 47, present foremen of the street division in Mountain View, has been employed as street superintendent at a monthly salary of $764. There were 19 applications for the job.

Hickman, a native of Washington, has been employed by Mountain View since 1963. Pre-

TWO TO GO--Richard Hardy (left) vice-president of the Ainsley corporation, and formerly Chamber of Commerce vice-president, was named president of the C. of C. to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ron Tharp (right) who has been transferred to the east coast by IBM. Paul Landwehr (center secretary-manager of the C. of C., has also submitted his resignation effective September 5.

Paul Landwehr to leave C of C

Paul A. Landwehr, 47, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce since September 1962, last week submitted his resignation to the directors of the C. of C. effective September 5, when his three-year contract terminates.

Landwehr, who has been plagued with health problems during the past year and has been under orders of his doctor to "take it easier" listed his physical condition as the sole reason for his resignation.

He explained orally that in fairness to the Chamber he felt that at this time a manager was needed who would not be limited in his activities because of any health problem. Landwehr suffered a mild heart attack on the eve of the Old Settlers celebration.

The directors accepted Landwehr's resignation with regret. Landwehr told the directors that he would work during the next few months in the selection of a new manager, if the board desired it.

At the same directors' meeting, the board adopted the Chamber of Commerce budget for the next year. The budget for the year was set at $17,660 which is $1500 less than originally planned because of the reduction of the city subsidy from $9000 to $7500.

The estimated budget calls for $6000 to be raised from membership dues and $2160 allocation from the county. Landwehr's salary was $700 per month.

In face of the curtailed budget, the directors questioned whether it was possible to operate the C. of C. as in the past.

Bullets fly in chase

Stillness of the early morning hours on Tuesday of this week was shattered by gunfire as a Campbell police officer and a police reserve sergeant attempted to halt a youthful driver on the freeway.

The wild chase started on Highway 17 and ended on Budd Ave near California in Campbell where the young driver abandoned the car, which turned out to be a stolen vehicle.

The driver of the car who made two u-turns on the freeway and then allegedly attempted to run down the police officers who had attempted to stop him, eluded the officers in the area near Campbell Grammar School (Cherry Lane) and the construction area of the San Tomas Expressway despite the joint efforts of California Highway Patrol officers as well as Los Gatos, San Jose and county patrols who came to the local officers' assistance.

The chase began at about 5 a.m. when

Fiscal focusing

This is the time of year that the administrations of various governmental agencies, ranging from city to federal level and including school districts, take a deep breath and plunge into the new fiscal year.

Tentative budgets for the year have been rushed to completion before the June 30 deadline. But in most instances the adopted budgets are merely "preliminary" to the final jobs that will be completed when the assessed valuation of property, including utilities, are finalized in August.

In some instances the preliminary budgets will be close to the final ones because the estimates and projections will be in line. In other cases there will be a number of changes made.

For example, in all probability the budget for the City of Campbell will undergo some alterations during the next six weeks or so as the staff and council intensively study the city's fiscal outlook.

City Manager Bob Stephens warned the council that projected cash reserve for the end of the next fiscal year was less than what he considered safe. It was also pointed out that the preliminary budget does not provide for any increases in salaries for city employees.

We agree with the council members that they must proceed with caution in the allocation of funds, despite the pressing need for many capital improvements. The councilmen are determined also, if possible, to lower or, at least, keep the tax rate the same as it has been.

Actually this year's tentative budget for the city of $1,764,370 is less than last year's. In recent years the city's income has not been showing as high a percentage of increase per year as was the case in 1961 and 1962.

So the council members have been scrutinizing and weighing every item in the bulky budget with more care this year than has been the case in some previous years.

There are three main breakdowns for the budget, (1) personnel; (2) materials; (3) capital outlay. Personnel, in the tentative budget, accounts for $739,443; materials and services, $463,166 and $554,261 for capital outlay.

The City of Campbell has become 'big business' and is a far cry from the first budget we reviewed back in 1956.

An interesting observation of the various budget hearings that were held was that a $9000 request from the Chamber of Commerce provoked more interest from the sidelines than any other single item.

This figure representing only a small percentage of the total nevertheless had a number of ramifications which greatly outweighed the actual amount involved.

After considerable heated discussion, in which Chamber of Commerce officials pleaded for the annual subsidy to remain at $9000, the council reduced the amount to $7500.

Basically the councilmen's reasoning for the cut was two-fold: (1) it was in line with other reductions that had to be made in other city departments and (2) other cities of comparable size had allocated lesser amounts to their C. of C's.

We concur with the reasoning with respect to overall reductions but we vehemently disagree with the theory that what other cities do should be used as a criteria for our city.

We see no fault with a substantial subsidy to the Chamber of Commerce. As a matter of fact we maintain that an increase in the allocation to the Chamber of Commerce could be justified.

BUT the allocation must be substantiated by facts and figures showing that ALL the taxpayers and citizens of the community will benefit from the Chamber of Commerce efforts.

But this should not be too difficult to do.

That the community needs an active, energetic, aggressive and progressive Chamber of Commerce should be self-evident. There is a constant need for a campaign to interest new industries in new retail outlets coming to Campbell. There is a constant need to get a grass roots response to set the residents point of view.

And the C. of C. should be operated with those objectives in mind.

We maintain, however, that Chamber of Commerce officers should not come before the City Council with their hat-in-hand, so to speak, and ask for funds just to keep the doors open or to pay minimum salaries.

We believe that the City Council recognizes the need for an active C. of C. and the question of the size of the subsidy is merely academic.

We think that it is obviously unfair to compare Campbell with other cities. Our problems are different and, in many instances, unique. A great deal has been said about "the image of Campbell" and how much it needs improving.

While we agree in a degree to this thinking, we also maintain that this "image" bit has been using a crutch at times and the expression has become antiquated.

The new Campbell can be a community of which we all can be proud.

But it takes a coordinated effort of all concerned, including the residents, the City Council AND the Chamber of Commerce.

THE PICTURES were taken on June 25. The clock registered 3:27 p.m. And the temperature... (Remember we have the record to prove it) was 58-degrees!

If we hadn't seen it, even in our shivering condition, we wouldn't have believed it.

Less than 10 days before the Fourth of July and 58-degrees? Who's kidding whom?

But since our picture-taking the weather seems to have straightened out and has begun to fly right, for this time of year anyway.

There were a couple of times lately that we were pretty sure that the thermometer was getting close to that 100 mark.

DUSTY RHODES, the municipal judge for the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga court, was complimented recently by Sig Sanchez, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Sanchez in effect commended Judge Rhodes for his common sense approach to the budgetary problems that are facing the supervisors. The board chairman commented that although Rhodes probably had the heaviest case load of any 'muni' judge in the county, he had recommended that a minor allocation be made for temporary quarters where visiting judges could sit rather than demanding an appointment of another job and the major capital outlay that this would entail.

We are not so sure what the reaction was of Dusty's fellow jurists to this bit of courtroom budgetary by-play.

But to those of us who know Judge Rhodes well, it just was another notch in the enviable record he has made on the bench for conscientious service to the public which he is serving so admirably.

We are pleased that the supervisors took note of it.

Constantly on the prowl for new expressions to describe routine jobs, we are indebted this week to Councilman Bob McElroy for a rather vivid little number made at a council meeting in reference to a speed check made on one of the police cars.

"I heard," said Bob, "that when one of the officers took out a patrol car to BLOW OUT THE CARBON, the car was able to go only -- mph. (We personally censured the reference to the exact speed)

We are happy to pass it on.

Out-of-state students to pay more at SJS

In June the California State Colleges Board of Trustees increased the annual tuition costs for out-of-state residents from $500 annually to $540. The new rate will go into effect with the fall semester.

The increase was recommended by the Coordinating Council of Higher Education, the State College Presidents and the Academic Senate of the State Colleges.

Not affected by the increase are the more than 600 students from foreign countries now on the SJSC campus. The tuition rate for foreign students is $255 per year.

Angelo said, it would be financed through assessments either on the net area of the land involved or on existing buildings. He estimated that the assessment per land area would be $3.50 per square foot or $10 per square foot for buildings.

The entire cost of the parking district would be financed through the issuance of bonds payable by the property owners.

Prior to the engineer's report, Dick Hogan, city planning director, described two possible methods of the eventual improvement of the Campbell Ave. business section of the town.

One plan calls for two 'by-passes' or through streets (Rincon on the south and Grant on the north) to be developed to take care of the through traffic from Bascom to Winchester.

The present Campbell Ave. business section would then be developed on both sides of the street in an attractive and colorful manner to gain a special identity.

The other method was described as the 'central core' development. Emphasis would be placed on a civic center complex north of Campbell Ave. between Harrison on the east and Third Street and bounded on the north by Grant.

In both methods, Hogan emphasized, off-street parking areas were needed and the proposed parking district would fit into either picture.

At the meeting this morning, committee members were expected to discuss which method of development they felt was desirable.

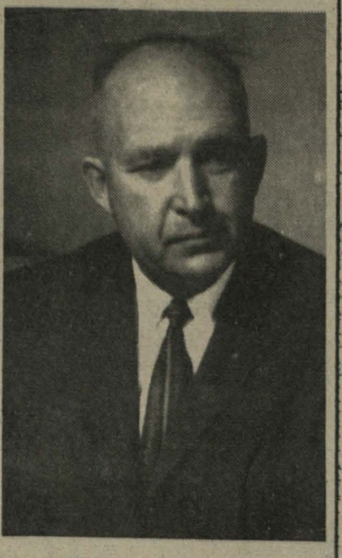
Rev. Cunningham to resign as Congregational minister here



REV. EDWARD CUNNINGHAM

The Rev. Edward Cunningham, minister of the Campbell Congregational Church for the past four years, has announced his resignation, to be effective when he obtains new employment. Associate Minister V. F. Deditus, Director of Christian Education, has also resigned.

The Church Council has accepted the resignations, but five members of the congregation are meeting this week to consider whether or not to appeal to the California Conference, according to Robert Culp, church moderator.

Rev. Cunningham resides at 908 La Plata Plaza. He is presently taking a month's vacation in Chicago attending the National Synod.

"I hereby tender my resignation as minister of the First Congregational Church of Campbell, with the condition the date of termination is contingent upon my finding other suitable employment.

I pledge myself to actively seek such employment immediately to make termination of my services here come at as early a date as possible. - Minister, Edward Cunningham., dated June 28, 1965."

Reception for the Governor

Santa Clara County Democrats gathered in the gardens of the home of Attorney and Mrs. John M. Chargin, 1069 Bent Drive, Thursday evening to greet Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown who was in San Jose to dedicate the state's 50 million dollar South Bay Aqueduct which has its terminus here.

Over 200 guests were served pink champagne and hors duerves at the fund raising party and heard Brown tell of the progress made this past year in the state's water crisis, and education and mental health problems.

Among the Campbellites noted in the gathering were Mesdames Thomas Riddle, Jayne O'Reilly, Pam Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Goodman and William Sokol.

Prior to the gathering Governor Brown played golf with several of his associates at La Rinconada Country Club and dined with Chargin and friends at a downtown San Jose restaurant.

Pre-schoolers to get free dental exams

The University of California's School of Dentistry in cooperation with the Economic Opportunity Commission is providing dental examinations for 1245 pre-school children in 83 Head Start centers throughout Santa Clara County.

The University's Mobile Examination Unit will travel to each of the centers some time during the July 6 to August 27 session. Each child will have his teeth cleaned and x-rayed, and cavities will be charted.

This diagnostic examination is being provided free of charge by the School of Dentistry through the courtesy of Dr. Marvin Stark, Associate Professor of Operative Dentistry and Oral Biology, School of Dentistry and Lecturer in Microbiology, School of Medicine in San Francisco.

Dr. Stark, 23480 Ravensbray in Los Altos Hills, is the founder of the 35 x 8 foot trailer. Funds for the trailer, valued at $30,000, were part of a grant given to Dr. Stark by the Johnson and Johnson Company for an epidemiological study. Much of the equipment was donated by private firms.

Nine thousand senior Girl Scouts, 15 through 17 years of age, from every state in the United States, and 150 Girl Guides from 45 countries will get together in a gigantic encampment from July 15-28. Twenty-four Senior Girl Scouts from the Santa Clara County Girl Scout Council will be a part of this great gathering.

An airy summer dessert

The most delightful summer desserts are the cool, airy concoctions that call for the season's fresh fruits.

Particularly inviting is this Lemon-Fruit Parfait, that blends layers of fruit and fluffy, lemon flavored gelatin dessert. It's served in tall parfait glasses with a crown of whipped cream.

LEMON FRUIT PARFAIT

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 1/3 cups milk
2/3 cup bottled lemon juice
1/3 cup sugar
1 pint sweetened fruit
1/2 cup whipped cream

Combine gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar, salt, slightly beaten egg yolks and milk. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until mixture begins to thicken. Do not boil. Remove from heat and slowly add lemon juice, cool. Chill until mixture thickens slightly. Beat egg whites until fluffy. Slowly add 1/3 cup sugar and continue beating until stiff. Chill. Spoon into glass alternately with fruit. Top with whipped cream. 4 to 6 servings.

The programs, open free to the public, are held on the first and third Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's lecture room. Also on the second Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. at the hospital, located on Pollard Road near Winchester Boulevard, Los Gatos.

The next tours are set for July 7 and 14, Hannum said.

Pot-luck supper

Highway division to hold hearing on Highway 17

A public hearing will be held on Thursday, August 5, by the Division of Highways to present studies and exhibits prepared for the proposed expansion of existing Los Gatos-San Jose Freeway (Route 17) to eight lanes.

The hearing will begin at 2 p.m. in the Board of Supervisors' Room, 70 West Hedding St., San Jose.

The hearing has been scheduled so that the proposed expansion of Route 17 to eight lanes from Camden Ave. in Campbell to Interstate Route 280 Freeway near Moorpark Ave. in San Jose, may be discussed with officials of the County of Santa Clara, City of Campbell, City of San Jose, other local officials and interested persons. Preliminary studies will be explained and exhibits will be displayed in connection with the proposal.

Advance showing of the exhibits will be open to the public on Thursday, July 29, from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m., in the Board of Supervisors' Room, 70 West Hedding St., San Jose. Division of Highways representatives will be present to answer questions and interested individuals are cordially invited to visit the display and to attend the meeting. The exhibits may be seen after July 29 at the Division of Highways District Office, 150 Oak St., San Francisco.

DOWN IT GOES--Wrecking crews during the past week made short work of demolishing the two-story building (above) at Railway and Campbell Ave., that housed the Golden State Cleaners until that firm moved to its new location on Winchester Blvd. several years ago.

Boy, struck by truck, improves

Two-year old Michael Douglas Kelley, who was struck down by his father's pickup truck in a driveway at 18280 Montevina Rd., Los Gatos, has been released from the hospital and taken home.

The little boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kelley, 967 Kenneth St., Campbell. The Kelleys had been visiting friends in Los Gatos and the father failed to notice the boy as he backed out of the driveway.

Kelley, an engraver, was alerted by his wife of the accident, stopped the truck, and rushed his son to the hospital. The boy was in the intensive care unit at Los Gatos Hospital for a week.

Service stations, shopping centers concern planners

New Shopping centers and additions to a present one and Service stations were scheduled to be in the limelight at the Planning Commission meeting last night (after press time). Because of the holiday on Monday the commission went into session last night.

The application of Chez & Grattan, developers of property on Hamilton Ave., for planned development approval of two service stations on the northeast and southeast corners of Hamilton and Marathon, was scheduled to be heard at a public hearing. This is the second submission of plans by Chez & Grattan. The first ones did not meet the requirements of P-D.

The commission was also expected to set a public hearing on a proposed amendment to a city ordinance which would change requirements for service stations and other outdoor business activities.

On the shopping center front, Topaz Builders are asking for a change of zone on property recently annexed to the city on Hacienda and San Tomas, in order to develop a shopping center on the site. This is the second time the company has asked for approval of plans for a center under P-D.

The first time the commission approved the plans but they were later rejected by the City Council after a stormy hearing. Owners of shopping centers in the general area have long-opposed further commercial development in the area.

Another shopping center item on last night's agenda concerned the proposal of James Daly for two commercial buildings to be located in the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester and Latimer. The proposal calls for a two-story building.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

While with the Armed Services Committee in Paris to attend the International Air Show, it was my privilege to be one of four Congressmen invited to a dinner at Ambassador Bohlen's residence honoring Vice President and Mrs. Humphrey, astronauts McDivitt and White and their wives.

Aside from the obvious pleasure of being able to converse at length with the famous guests of honor, the affair provided me with a new insight into French attitudes toward the United States and the NATO Alliance. Several high ranking French diplomats were in attendance who discussed the matter with complete candor.

Though it may come as a surprise, I found French attitudes toward Americans to be warmer than in the past. In past conversations with the French, the resentment which comes with dependency nearly always broke the surface to destroy true compatibility. Now, with economic recovery, the Frenchman's defensive attitude is gone and he speaks with the pride of an equal. French officials have their own ideas of their proper role in world affairs, and they may differ from ours, but I did not find them unfriendly.

My findings parallel those of a Republican fact-finding group which recently went to Paris to seek out means of strengthening the faltering NATO Alliance. They suggest that we face the simple fact that France is now a nuclear power and the United States must reassess its policy of exercising exclusive control within NATO over nuclear technology and weapons. They also suggest that the French and other allies participate in formulating a clear-cut policy with respect to the employment of nuclear weapons in the defense of Europe. Some will argue that sharing of technology and decision-making is proliferation of nuclear weaponry and increases the risk of nuclear war. This may have been true five years ago, but today it ignores the reality that we no longer have a nuclear monopoly in the free world. Greater proliferation is inevitable without improved cooperation.

De Gaulle is riding strong currents in Europe and is attracting a sympathetic following. Without question, U. S. and French relations will deteriorate further unless we demonstrate our continuing friendship for France and earnestly seek a cooperative method of making decisions and sharing technology which presumes a semblance of equality. When the NATO Alliance was conceived in 1949 the U. S. was the only nation with the economic ability and the nuclear know-how to take the lead. This is no longer true, so cooperation must replace the leader-follower relationship.

I do not advocate kowtowing to de Gaulle, sharing significant nuclear secrets under conditions of inadequate security, or the reckless dissemination of nuclear power. But to continue a policy based upon facts which prevailed in 1949 is to invite the splintering of the free world into nuclear camps, any one of which could blow up the world. With the obvious Soviet buildup in the satellite countries and the world's preoccupation with Vietnam, there is trouble coming in Europe--and soon! We can waste no time in restoring a finding of true partnership with the French and our other European allies.

SOCIAL SECURITY

By
Gladstone A. Boquist

Q. If you become disabled, how can you best protect your rights under the disability provisions of the social security law?

A. By getting in touch with a social security district office or one of its representatives and filing an application for disability insurance benefits. An application must be filed before disability insurance benefits can be paid.

Q. Even though social security benefits may not be paid until the death, disability, or retirement of the insured person, is there anything the person can do before any of these things happen, to protect his rights?

A. Yes. Entitlement and the amount of any kind of social security benefit depend on the amounts credited to the social security account. You may check your account by obtaining an earnings statement from our record-keeping headquarters in Baltimore, Maryland. You may do this by using a postcard form which you obtain from your social security office or representative. If the statement which they furnish does not agree with your records, bring both records to our office and we shall assist you.

Q. I will be 65 in a few months. I still work and earn about $2400 a year. I am married and have no children. I could not afford to quit to get my social security payments. What good would it do for me to come see you?

A. You might find that you and your family could get some monthly checks even though you are still working. It pays to find out the facts ahead of time.

Q. I will be 65 years of age this year but am still employed as a school teacher. I know I am insured under social security, because of some summer work I did several years ago which was covered by social security. I do not intend to retire until I am forced to, at the age of 70. Is there anything I should do about my social security account now?

A. There certainly is. There are special rules that apply to school teachers which might permit you to receive one or more monthly benefit checks during the summer recess. This is because, although you are paid your salary over the 12-month period, the money is earned only during the 10 months of the school year. You may receive a check for any month in which your actual earnings are $100 or less. You should discuss your case with a representative of your local social security district office. Generally speaking, anyone approaching age 65 should do this.

Robert W. Brydon of 1140 W. Latimer, Campbell, a widely-known educational administrator who figured prominently in the organization of the West Valley Joint Junior College District, has been elected chairman of the District's Board of Trustees.

Before the election of officers, the board meeting was punctuated by verbal battle between Bruce F. Allen, outgoing president, and Richard B. Atchison, a defeated candidate for the board in the last election.

Brydon was elected by the trustees to serve in the 1965-66 school year, succeeding Allen, of Los Gatos, an attorney and former member of the California Assembly.

Succeeding Brydon as vice-chairman is Dr. Edwin C. Browne of Los Gatos, a retired college administrator. Donald E. Lindstrom of Santa Clara, an elementary school administrator, succeeds Browne as clerk of. the board.

The Board elected William J. Homan, an IBM executive and resident of the Cambrian area of San Jose, as its representative to the Santa Clara County Committee on School District reorganization.

The Board election was preceded by a sharp exchange between Atchison of Saratoga, an unsuccessful candidate for trustee in the bond election last April, and Allen. Atchison, who said he spoke as chairman of the committee for Sound Junior College Financing, addressed the meeting:

"We are not opposed to a Junior College, but we are opposed to some of the things your (the West Valley) Board is doing. You are still condemning land for the Saratoga site (approved by the Board as a site for its first campus), and it looks as if you are trying to increase opposition to your actions by going down the same trail. My group is asking the Board to accept its offers and its good offices to get a sound program. We are as ready to help you as we are to oppose you, but if you continue as you are now going we will have to oppose you."

"Your committee is completely unrealistic." Allen replied. "Largely because of your committee, we have lost two bond elections and a chance for three percent financing of our campus. We lost a $3.7 million federal grant for the same reason (Allen referred to a National Higher Education Act grant for which West Valley reportedly would have qualified highly had the 1964 bond issue passed in 1964 but which eventually went to DeAnza construction).

"You say you are for lower taxes, but by your actions you are causing higher taxes. You are largely responsible for the higher tax rate we are going to have to have next year. By your actions you might well be forcing us to build a larger campus than planned in Saratoga, because you may be forcing us to consider only two campuses instead of three. You say that the bonding method is the sound way of financing junior college yet you oppose our bonds."

Warren Klippel of Saratoga, another unsuccessful candidate for the board, told the board "I don't see why you should let them (the Atchison committee) bulldog you into doing what they want when a majority of the voters returned this board to office."

John Magee, a Los Gatos engineer, accused the Atchison group of "attempting to serve its own selfish ends." S. G. Hernandez, a Saratoga motel operator, presented statistics of school population growth and challenged the board to "resign if you bow to the selfish wishes of a few."
